NATIONAL MONEY SHOW A SUCCESS

by Steve D., Host Club Chair and Local Exhibit Chair

The National Money Show at the Broadmoor was held on the 10th through 12 of March with a dealers-only setup day on Wednesday the 9th.

The Colorado Springs Coin Club and the Colorado Springs Numismatic Society were co-host clubs for this event, meaning that we were responsible for supplying volunteers to serve in a number of different capacities.

All indications are that we did this perfectly! Thank you to everyone who volunteered! Many in the ANA were pleased with how the show went, however they have to analyze attendance data, etc. before deciding whether they will want to come back in a couple of years.

After going to various local club meetings along the Front Range earlier this year, looking for additional volunteers, my Host Club Chair work effectively ended at the opening ceremonies—though I have no doubt that if a major issue had erupted, I'd still have been on the hook!

I spoke at the opening ceremonies about the very first ANA springtime show in 1978. It wasn't called the National Money Show back then. I don't remember what it was called. But it was at the Broadmoor, in the ice rink. They had laid plywood down on top of the ice, and it was cold in that place! No doubt a lot of coins had frosty luster. But there was a 13-going-on-14 year-old kid at that show, being exposed to many parts of numismatics that he had not known about (he had started collecting Lincoln cents at 6 or 7 years old). That "kid," of course, was now the Host Club Chair, and the Best of Show exhibit award at that show is named after him.

Obviously when this opportunity to host the show came up, I had to do this. How often does anyone get the chance to come full circle in life? Fortunately, I had done this before for the ANA World's Fair of Money in 2017.

There was schwag galore. I received the Goodfellow Award for being the Host Club Chair, but more importantly the two clubs received the Louis S. Warner Host Club awards. Plaques accompanied all of these awards.

Once the opening ceremony was over, I changed "hats" and worked as Local Exhibit Chair. In addition to helping exhibitors setup and teardown, the job during public hours was mainly managing the People's Choice Award. (I also judged the Economics Class and Best of Show.) This was one area that was very different from 2017! Back then, I just had to hand out ballots, taking care to not hand out more than one ballot to the same individual. This made it necessary to spend as little time away from the exhibits area as possible. (While someone else was covering for me, it was possible someone could get a second ballot, because my relief wouldn't remember that person. If I were there, I would.) But I could at least leave for five minutes, then come back and look for new people in the area.

This year, though, we had a new idea, a drawing to get people to come to the exhibit area in the first place. And I was the guinea pig! Unfortunately, this was a bit confusing to the public, and so the table had to be attended constantly, and I mean constantly. Fortunately I had a couple of other volunteers who could cover me for the meetings I also had to attend as part of my exhibiting program work, including presenting the best of show awards at the exhibit awards ceremony. (Thank you Vicky K., Lynn M., and Jason S.!)

However, this job had its compensations! I got to call the drawing winners (one every hour, twenty prizes total) and they were actually happy to get a phone call from a stranger. It must have something to do with telling them about free silver rounds as opposed to expensive (and bogus) extended warranties on cars.

On balance, the drawing is a good idea; it gets people into the exhibit area (and our placement near registration helped too). We just needed to work out the kinks, and for the most part, we have. We now know how it should go at future shows. We did the hard work of debugging this so that the Chicago Coin Club won't have to this summer. (You're welcome, Chicago!) (Full disclosure: I am a member of CCC.)

The exhibits were of very high quality this year. The judges were pleased, and the general public was too. We had a number of club members exhibiting at this show, including Kevin L, Bob C., Tom H., Keith N. and Elden L., as well as new club member Jeff R. Your exhibits were all excellent! Thank you!!

But that wasn't all that was going on; that's just the little piece of it that I got to see personally. We also had to coordinate the pages, introduce speakers at the Money Talks lectures, assist with the young numismatist programs (including the Boy Scout merit badge clinics), and—requiring the lion's share of volunteer hours—serve as ambassadors, helping show attendees find their way around.

As if that wasn't enough, we had club tables to staff. This was actually a separate thing, administratively, from the host club work, but obviously people could do both, and many of us did. The tables needed to be manned continuously because they were a stop for the YN Treasure Trivia challenge (a sort of scavenger hunt for numismatic knowledge).

One Last Note (if you're still with me): If you have receipts for parking at the Broadmoor, you can get reimbursed for the parking. Bring the receipts with you, and see Holly S., Barbara T., or me.

Once again thanks to all who contributed their time and talent!

THANK YOU, VOLUNTEERS!

The following people all volunteered their time and talents to this show, both for the Host Club work and the club table. We absolutely could not have done it without you!
