EXHIBITS

1. Bob C. gave a presentation on the Canadian 13 coin Confederation 125th Anniversary set. These coins were struck by the Royal Canadian Mint in celebration of Canada's 125th Anniversary of Confederation. The set is comprised of 12 quarters with scenes from each province and territory in Canada and a parliament $1 coin...all in proof like condition and spread out across a colorful map of Canada. The $1 coin shows the Parliament Building. He also spoke about the Nova Scotia lighthouse (Peggys' Point) there at Peggy's Cove. This lighthouse was built in 1915 and continued in use until it closed in 2009.
2. Larry F. shared with our members some of his "Disney Collectibles". This time he displayed Walt Disney Co. Common stock certificates that he recently obtained in the denominations of .50 cent, $1.00, $5.00, & $10. He also had a binder containing Disney $5.00 certificates. He purchases these certificates from dealers and e-bay. He also has a Professional Catalog / Vacation Guide for Disney Fantasy Currency. One share of Disney common stock on the website in 2002 was about $100.00 a share. He mentioned, too, that the .50 was harder to get.
3. Steve. I., in his presentation, continued the theme of early US gold coinage. He spoke of the 1813 – 1834 type, which he does not have, then told the story of how the government was forced to adjust the gold content downward due to a change in the market gold/silver value ratio. This happened in mid -1834. To mark the change and stop its coins from being exported and melted), the US came out with the Classic Head gold coinage, but as before only in the $2 ½ and $5 values ($10 gold pieces had last been made in 1804). He showed an 1836 $2 ½ or quarter eagle of this newer, lighter-weight type.

May winning presentation was Bob C.
