June Business

Barbara and Frank T. presented sign-up sheets for volunteer helpers and reviewed the show set-up, times for needed helpers and take-down. On Wednesday, June 25th, 2:00 P.M. we did table covers, dealer signs, cases, lights and everything else that we normally do in order to get ready for the dealers and the public coming in, the following day, Thursday, June 26th.

Frank K., helping with the coin cases and warehouse procedures transport, told of Wednesday pick-up at 2:00. As it turned out, Paul H. supplied a trailer for the transport of the cases from the ANA warehouse for set-up and back to it after the show.

George M. reviewed the registration greeters table procedures along with the show exhibits set-up.

July Program

ANA Reception Invitation

ANA’s Money Museum had invited Club members to join them for their Exhibit Opening Reception of “Treasurers of the Deep” on June 5th. A good amount of Society and Coin Club members had attended.

Doing Much Better

As most of us know, Frank K. was not doing well Thursday during show set-up. His son made him go home where he was put in the hospital later in the evening. After a couple days of tests he remained there until Tuesday before feeling much better and being released.

A General View of the 2014 Coin Show

I, your secretary, feel that we had a good show that was well attended by Summer Seminar students (of course the Baltimore show cut into our dealer attendance) but not so well attended by the general public, probably due to the other weekend events in the area. The Thursday opening helped with dealer selling, but made it a long four days for the volunteer helpers. I would like to thank the Numismatic Society and Coin Club members that put in countless hours of help with set-up, registration, exhibits and take-down. The Symposium was not so well attended most of the hours but the show door prizes, coins for YN’s and YN’s giveaway table went very well. As for the dealers, most were happy with sales, of course inventory is always a big factor as is borderline grading and competitive pricing.

Coin Show Exhibiting

We did not have the amount of exhibits as in prior years but what was presented was done very well. Thank you to the individuals that took the time and effort to show these fine exhibits at our show.

The Adult, Coins and Paper Money award was won by Elden T. with “Evolution of a Collector”.

One of the new categories, “Adult, Exonumia Award”, won by Terry Cr. showing “A Collection of Exonumia from the 1906 Pike Centennial Celebration”.

The other new category “First Time Exhibitor” was won by Elden T.

People’s Choice was won by George M. with “The 1938-D Three Legged Buffalo Nickel”.

The two honorary mention exhibits were Elden T.’s “Collecting Cast Iron Banks” and Dan U.’s “The Coins of the Protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia”.

Show Donations

Thank you to those members that helped with donating materials and/or coins for our coin show giveaways to our young numismatic guests. They are the future of numismatics.
